

CheckList Website

Main usability	Comments
User experience	On my page I have simplified the page so that the user can navigate and interact with the blog and decide whether they have the right to like or dislike, comment, or share on the posts.
Basic rules	Readability	On the website I have used a sans serif font that basically helps to have easy-to-read text. In addition, I have used the font size according to the context, that is, for the titles, it is larger than the subtitle.
	Organization	In this part where the page has to be well structured, it lacks a bit of a turn in terms of having a clear organization in the symmetry between the images and the text.
	Accessibility	In this part there is a very simple page structure to navigate the blog.
Standards	Links	On my page I have used the links only to access social networks.
Common uses	Left to right	In this case I have used right to left as the page is in Spanish.
	Common names	Respecting common names on the web page is something that has to be used because they are common words that are used in many sites and users know them and this helps to have readability on your page, and on my page I have used it only in the home plate.
	Logotypes	It is important that the LogoType of the page is at the top left, in my case I put it where it belongs.
	Navigation bars
	Searches	On my page I have used this option, the only thing I put is on the left side instead of the right side.
	Help	In my case I have not offered this option to the user of my blog.
Readability	Fonts and Serif	As a sans serif font that facilitates readability is important on a page, I have used it on my page.

	Contrast	The contrast between the text and the background influences flexibility, I have not used it on my page.
	Size	Text sizes have an importance in the readability of the page, on my page I have respected this point it depends on the context of the text, for a title that is large, or it is a subtitle that has a smaller size
	Margins	At this point of margins between text and images or another element of the page, there are still some things that need to be improved on the page, such as , so I have not perfectly respected this point.
Conventions	colors	At this point I have respected the color palette that I have defined in the style guide.
	icons	Icons play an important role in the readability of the page. on my page I have used icons
Lettering and assistance	Breadcrumbs	I have not used the guide that is included between the text and the title and the content on my website.
	Clear links	To this point you have icons on the left and text on the right that explains the meaning of this icon so that it is this faster, I have not used it on my website.
	Site map	This is when there is a large hierarchy, since my website is simple, I have not used the Site Map.

Conclusion:

To conclude, on my page I have not yet achieved the objective that I initially designed in the WireFrame, and as I have explained in each point, what needs to be improved is mainly organization of the page from the header to add the language icon and social network icons, also adjust the sizes of images and texts well to have a visual that the space of each post is well distributed, I would also use Clear Links to give my users ease to read very quickly, so it is understood just by seeing the icon, it can also improve the contrast of the page to give more flexibility to the page, I would like to improve the page to give it more thought in the margins of the page to have a symmetry that in the end gives a visual touch that the page is well organized.
